- students and high students we should not wait for the cub time to do intervention.
- Shared good ideas when to talk to students and how they feel about reading.
- Not much benefit from too much homework. Students should be reading.
- How to run Assessment and read them.
- Get rid of the worksheets, talk and write more
- OES is already doing most of what she is doing.

2nd grade will present the information from this conference at Prof Development on Mar 5.

1st grade-report on Building Effective Readers Conference-Griffith and Conover
Special training BER all 3 first grade teachers have attended.

The conference is a good reminder, but it also helps us dive deeper and zero in on a goal and work on it and then come back and do interventions and report back. The class is so small that they have one on one.

SCC approved money to help purchase supplies for the goals. We have brought samples for sound box supplies which is really helpful to identify those students who need more help on blending. We have completed 4 of 6 trainings, we have 1 in Feb and 1 in Mar left. The goal is to pass what we have learned to 2nd grade.

3rd Grade - Collaboration Report - Bridgette Funk and Katie Saunders

We worked on Common Assessments, Language Arts Essentials. Thank you for the Collaboration days.
